"Go on! Tell me all about it," he added.

"I like the country best," said he when I had finished, "because there I see more truth in things. Here the lie has many forms—unique, varied, ingenious. The rouge and powder on the lady's cheek—they are lies, both of them; the baronial and ducal crests are lies; the people who use them are liars; the people who seek themselves in rum have nothing but lies in their heads; the multitude who live by their wits and the lack of them in others—they are all liars; the many who imagine a vain thing and pretend to be what they are not—liars, every one of them. It is bound to be so in the great cities, and it is a mark of decay. The skirts of Eleanora, the wigs and rouge pots of Mme. Pompadour, the crucifix of Machiavelli and the innocent smile of Fernando Wood stand for something horrible and vastly false in the people about them. For truth you've got to get back into the woods. You can find men there a good deal as God made them—genuine, strong and simple. When those men cease to come here you'll see grass growing in Broadway."

TYPHOID GERMS.

The microscope shows that in the blood of every person suffering from typhoid the little germs can be found as shown above. They are supposed to get into the water or milk we drink. The germs multiply so that one germ is capable of producing about one hundred trillion germs in twenty-four hours. That is why if they ever get into the water supply of a town they multiply so fast that nearly everybody drinking the water comes down with the disease. There are exceptions, however, and they are the persons whose health is perfect, whose blood is pure, and liver active. When the germs get into a healthy body they are thrown off by the other poisons. Recent Chicago statistics show that one-eighth of all the deaths in the past two years in that city have resulted from pneumonia.

The best advice we can give is to put the body into a perfectly sound, healthy condition. Be assured that you have rich, red blood and an active liver.

Many years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, who is consulting surgeon to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., found certain herbs and plants of moderate price which, when made into an alternative extract (without the use of alcohol), seemed to be the very best means of putting the stomach, blood and vital organs into proper condition. This extract is now numbered by thousands. It is a tissue-builder, better than cod liver oil because it does not sicken the stomach, or offend the taste. It strengthens or renews the assimilative or digestive processes in the stomach and puts on healthy flesh when the weight of the invalid is reduced below the normal. "Golden Medical Discovery." Nothing else is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

NICHOLS, the Architect, Bloomington, Ind.

itudes went up and down the city by night with bands and torches, and there was such a howl of oratory and applause on the lower half of Manhattan Island that it gave the reporter no rest. William H. Seward, Charles Sumner, John A. Dix, Henry Ward Beecher and Charles O'Connor were the giants of the stump. There was more violence and religious fervor in the political feeling of that time than had been mingled since 1776. A sense of outrage was in the hearts of men. "Honest Abe" Lincoln stood, as they took it, for their homes and their country, for human liberty and even for their God.

I remember coming into the counting room late one evening. Loud voices had halted me as I passed the door. Mr. Greeley stood back of the counter; a rather tall, wiry, gray-headed man before it. Each was shaking a right fist under the other's nose. They were shouting loudly as they argued. The stranger was for war; Mr. Greeley for waiting. The publisher of the Tribune stood beside the latter, smoking a pipe; a small man leaned over the counter at the stranger's elbow, putting in a word here and there; half a dozen people stood by, listening. Mr. Greeley turned to his publisher in a moment.

"Rhodes," said he, "I wish you'd put these men out. They holler an' yell so I can't hear myself think."

Then there was a general laugh. I learned, to my surprise, when they had gone that the tall man was William H. Seward, the other John A. Dix.

Then one of those fevered days came the Prince of Wales—a godsend—to allay passion with curiosity.

It was my duty to handle some of the latest news by magnetic telegraph and help to get the plans and progress of the campaign at headquarters. The printer, as they called Mr. Greeley, was at his desk when I came in at noon, never leaving the office but for dinner until past midnight those days. And he made the Tribune a mighty power in the state. His faith in its efficacy was sublime, and every line went under his eye before it went to his readers. I remember a night when he called me to his office about 12 o'clock. He was up to his knees in the rubbish of the day newspapers that he had read and thrown upon the floor; his desk was littered with proofs.

"Go on," said the Prince of Wales, he said. (That interesting young man had arrived on the Harriet Lane that morning and ridden up Broadway between cheering hosts.) "I've got a sketch of him here, an' it's all twaddle. Tell us something new about him. If he's got a hole in his sock we ought to know it."

Mr. Dana came in to see him while I was there. "Look here, Dana," said the printer in a rasping humor. "By the gods of war! Here's two columns about that performance at the Academy and only two sticks of the speech of Seward at St. Paul. I'll have to get some one to go an' burn that theater an' send the bill to me."

In the morning Mayor Wood introduced me to the Duke of Newcastle, who in turn presented me to the Prince of Wales. Then a slim, blue-eyed youngster of nineteen, as gentle-mannered as any I have ever met. It was my unpleasant duty to keep as near as possible to the royal party in all the festivities of that week.

The ball in the prince's honor at the Academy of Music was one of the great social events of the century. No fair of vanity in the western hemisphere ever quite equaled it. The fashions of the French court had taken the city as had the prince—by unconditional surrender. Not in the palace of Versailles could one have seen a more generous exposure of the charms of fair women. None was admitted without a low cut bodice, and many came that I had not the proper accessories. But it was the most brilliant company New York had ever seen.

Too many tickets had been distributed, and soon "there was an elbow on every rib and a heel on every toe," as Mr. Greeley put it. Every miss and her mamma tiptoed for a view of the prince and his party, who came in at 10, taking their seats on a dais at one side of the crowded floor. The prince sat with his hands folded before him like one in a reverie. Beside him were the Duke of Newcastle, a big, stern man with an aggressive red beard; the blithe and sparkling Earl of St. Germans, then steward of the royal household; the curly Major Teasdale; the gay Bruce, a major general, who behaved himself always like a lady. Suddenly the floor sank beneath the crowd of people, who retired in some disorder. Such a compression of crinolines was never seen as at that moment, when periphery pressed upon periphery and held many a man captive in the cold embrace of steel and whalebone. The royal party retired to its rooms again, and carpenters came in with saws and hammers. The floor repaired, an area was roped off for dancing—as much as could be spared. The prince opened the dance with Mrs. Governor Morgan, after which other ladies were honored with his gallantry.

I saw Mrs. Fuller in one of the boxes and made haste to speak with her. She had just landed, having left Hope to study a time in the conservatory of Leipsic.

The method adopted was an old one. Collection accounts were manipulated to the extent of forty, and in some instances fifty per cent, to make it appear that the reserve fund was intact, and the amount of the increased collection fund was diverted to special stock operations. The reserve maintained in Eastern banks was tampered with, the books of the First National being fixed so that the reserve appeared to be larger by several hundreds of thousands of dollars than it really was. In the falsifying of records and the manipulation of the reserves, Bigelow declares he was aided by Assistant Cashier Goll and two bank bookkeepers. These bank bookkeepers acted on the orders of Bigelow.

Manipulation of accounts has been going on for months, according to the statement of one of the directors, but so cleverly was the work done that neither the directors nor the national bank examiners were able to discover the fact that anything was wrong with the funds of the bank.

As soon as the directors ascertained the full extent of the manipulations, steps were taken to protect the depositors and other creditors. They subscribed to a fund to make good the surplus until the amount raised reached $1,635,000.

Earthquake Facts Coming Out. Lahore, April 25.—The lieutenant governor of the Punjab, in the course of a public address on behalf of the earthquake fund, stated that he hoped the deaths by the earthquake had not exceeded 15,000, but within the affected area of 700 square miles, with a population of 250,000, nearly every building has collapsed or been rendered uninhabitable.

BIGELOW IS ARRESTED

President of First National Bank of Milwaukee Confesses to a Shortage of $1,450,000.

Once Trusted and Honored Financier Says His Downfall Came From Playing the Stock Game.

Milwaukee, April 25.—Frank G. Bigelow, president of the First National Bank of Milwaukee, was arrested last evening charged with the embezzlement of over $1,000,000 of the bank's funds. The arrest of Mr. Bigelow followed his confession to the board of directors of the bank that he was a defaulter to the extent of $1,450,000. Following Mr. Bigelow's confession, he was removed from the presidency of the bank and the facts in the case were laid before the federal authorities.

The complaint charges that Bigelow as president of the First National bank embezzled a sum exceeding $1,000,000. A complaint and warrant identical with those in Bigelow's case, were made out to Henry G. Goll, assistant cashier of the bank, but Goll could not be found.

President Bigelow was taken before United States Commissioner Bloodgood, where he waived a hearing and was held to the federal grand jury under $25,000 bond. Dr. Horace N. Brown and Arthur N. McGooch certified as sureties and Mr. Bigelow was released. The next federal grand jury has not yet been summoned, but it is expected it will meet some time next month.

The announcement of the default as president of the First National bank, followed by a rush of depositors to withdraw their money from the First National and from the Wisconsin Trust company, the savings department of the bank. Many thousands of dollars were withdrawn, but, on the other hand, large numbers of people, having confidence in the institutions, increased their deposits. Arrangements were hastily made to meet the run and the officers of the bank express full confidence in their ability to keep them open.

In President Bigelow's confession he said the money had been lost in speculation in wheat and stocks. Not a dollar of it could be recovered, and the only sum he could offer toward recompensing the bank was personal securities valued at approximately $300,000.

The confession of President Bigelow astounded the directors of the bank. Mr. Bigelow had been recognized as one of the foremost financiers of the Northwest. He has been associated with the First National bank in various capacities for more than fifteen years, and his business connections—trust companies, manufacturing concerns, real estate deals and other similar ventures—number scores. He was honored a year ago by election to the presidency of the American Bankers' association.

In making his statement to the directors of the bank Mr. Bigelow said he had become involved in speculation several months ago. This was on Wall street. More recently he had been a persistent bull in the wheat market, and recent losses there had been added to heavy reverses on Wall street. From small manipulations of the bank's funds he had extended the defalcations until his shortage had reached the present stage. He saw no opportunity or possibility of making up the amount, and therefore confessed.

When the resolution was adopted ousting Mr. Bigelow from the presidency of the bank, Henry Goll, assistant cashier, was also removed. The removal of the assistant cashier was due to the statement of President Bigelow that he was aided by Goll in concealing the shortage in the bank's accounts.

The method adopted was an old one. Collection accounts were manipulated to the extent of forty, and in some instances fifty per cent, to make it appear that the reserve fund was intact, and the amount of the increased collection fund was diverted to special stock operations. The reserve maintained in Eastern banks was tampered with, the books of the First National being fixed so that the reserve appeared to be larger by several hundreds of thousands of dollars than it really was. In the falsifying of records and the manipulation of the reserves, Bigelow declares he was aided by Assistant Cashier Goll and two bank bookkeepers. These bank bookkeepers acted on the orders of Bigelow.

Manipulation of accounts has been going on for months, according to the statement of one of the directors, but so cleverly was the work done that neither the directors nor the national bank examiners were able to discover the fact that anything was wrong with the funds of the bank.

As soon as the directors ascertained the full extent of the manipulations, steps were taken to protect the depositors and other creditors. They subscribed to a fund to make good the surplus until the amount raised reached $1,635,000.

A TEXAS TRAGEDY

Congressman Pinckney and Two Others Slain in Political Battle.

Hempstead, Tex., April 25.—At a mass meeting here last night, called for the purpose of petitioning the governor to send rangers here to enforce the local option law, J. N. Brown, a leading lawyer and a staunch anti-prohibitionist, began shooting, which became general in an instant. Three men were killed, one man was fatally injured, and two others seriously wounded. The dead are: J. N. Brown, Congressman John M. Pinckney, Tom Pinckney, brother of the congressman. John Mills, a leading prohibitionist, it is feared, cannot survive. Doc Tompkins, private secretary to Congressman Pinckney, and Rolling Brown, son of J. N. Brown, are badly wounded, but just how seriously cannot now be determined.

There are many armed men on the streets today, but it is not believed there will be any more trouble. The governor has been notified and will send rangers here. A special train was run from Houston with surgeons to attend the wounded.

There has been bitter feeling for several years over the prohibition question, and the recent election, when the "antis" failed to gain the victory they had expected, added to this. The whole county has been divided into factions as a result.

Recently Tucker Pinckney, a brother of John M. Pinckney, was shot to death by negroes.

Mining Companies Seek Damages. Denver, Col., April 25.—Suits for damages aggregating $1,000,000 have been filed in the state and federal courts by a number of Cripple Creek mining companies against the Western Federation of Miners and its officers. The complaints are all of similar nature. They charge the defendants with unlawfully conspiring to injure the plaintiffs by preventing the mining and shipment of ore. The suits are an outcome of the strike which was ordered in the Cripple Creek district in August, 1903.

Shoe Gives Evidence. Mount Vernon, Ohio, April 25.—Sheriff Sheelenbarger has arrested George Copeland, aged eighteen, colored, on a charge of being connected with the murder of Miss Marinda Bricker, whose body was found at the Fairchild residence Sunday morning. Copeland denies all knowledge of the crime, and says he can prove an alibi. A shoe from the arrested man's foot was taken and it fitted exactly the imprint left in the yard at the Fairchild residence, the sheriff says.

Honors to Ambassador's Memory. Mexico City, April 25.—On the arrival of the special train with the remains of the late Ambassador Aprosio the body was immediately transferred to the temporary chapel in the department of foreign relations. The funeral was a notable and imposing one. The cortege consisted of commissions from the various government departments and of representatives of the various foreign nations.

Cannot Tax Indians. Helena, Mont., April 25.—Judge Hunt in the United States court has decided the noted Indian tax case from Missoula county, holding that the county could not tax the property of Indians living on reservations. A temporary injunction against selling the property of Indians which had been assessed, seized and ordered sold was made permanent.

Consul's Sons Punished. Zucca, Sicily, April 25.—The courts here have condemned two sons of the Belgian consul for the violation of the domicile of the writer "Ouida" (Mlle. De La Ramee).

TERSE TELEGRAMS. Two feet of wet, heavy snow has fallen in Colorado.

Several cases of personal violence have marked the strike of ironworkers at Wheeling, W. Va.

A Santa Fe passenger train was derailed near Ashfork, Ariz., and two engineers were killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pfeil were burned to death in the destruction of their home at Riley, Kan.

A "flare back" or explosion of gases on the battleship Maine recently caused the injury of three men.

King Edward will arrive in Paris on April 29 and will confer with President Loubet on Sunday or Monday.

Shakespeare festival week is being celebrated at Stratford-on-Avon with great spirit. The town is crowded with visitors.

J. Pierpont Morgan of New York has left Rome for Brindisi, from which place he will go to Piombino and thence to Constantinople.

Receivership proceedings have been instituted against the Equitable Life Assurance Society in the United States circuit court at New York.

At Hempstead, Tex., Congressman John M. Pinckney and two other prominent citizens were slain in a battle between prohibitionists and "antis" at a local option meeting.

A landslide at Edison, Wyo., which caused the wreck of a Union Pacific freight train fills a cut 250 feet long and 25 feet deep. The cut may not be cleared for thirty days.

Frank C. Bigelow, president of the First National Bank of Milwaukee and ex-president of the National Bankers' association, was removed as president and director, Monday. His shortage is $1,500,000. He has been arrested.

RECEIVER IS DEMANDED

Policyholder Wants Court's Agent in Charge of the Surplus Fund and Asks an Accounting.

It Is Alleged That the Society's Officials Have Disregarded Their Trust.

New York, April 25.—Receivership proceedings have been instituted against the Equitable Life Assurance Society by J. Wilcox Brown of Maryland, a policyholder. In the United States district court here he filed an action against the society, asking for the appointment of a receiver of the surplus fund; an accounting for the benefit of himself and other policyholders that may join with him in the proceedings; and an injunction to prevent the society holding the surplus. Brown alleges that the society's officials have disregarded their trust and have not paid its proportion of the net surplus. His counsel have issued a statement saying that the huge surplus of the society is not legally retained from the policyholders nor lawfully used by the society, and that the profits due the policyholders, except the 7 per cent dividends, is now attempted to be swept aside by the stockholders' claims.

Two other phases of the Equitable controversy are in court. Justice McLean in the supreme court has reversed decision in the case of Herbert G. Tull, a policyholder, who applied for an injunction restraining the society's officers from taking any further proceedings to obtain an amended charter for the society. Mr. Tull's counsel attacks the proposed charter as a "blind," which really gave the policyholders nothing.

Counsel for Vice President Hyde of the society and Franklin B. Lord, a policyholder, appeared before Justice Maddox in the supreme court at Brooklyn to oppose a petition by President Alexander to strike out certain references to Mr. Alexander from the petition in which Mr. Hyde intervened in Mr. Lord's injunction proceedings against the proposed mutualization plan. There was no hearing, however, as the court had not yet received the Alexander petition.

ROUNDSMEN PERPLEXED

Chinamen Successfully Work Dummy Scheme in New York.

New York, April 25.—The fruits of the big police raid upon Chinatown, in which 213 alleged patrons of fan tan, pygmy and other gambling games were hauled into the police stations Sunday night, faded away in a mystifying fashion when the police attempted to arraign the Chinese in police court.

Of the 213 arraigned only twenty-one were held, and in the confusion caused by the similarity of their faces two of the twenty-one escaped. The roundsmen who had charge of the case declared that half of the eighty-five Chinamen who secured bail Sunday night had not appeared, but in their places were dummies so nearly resembling them that it could not be told without close examination whether they were the real prisoners or not. There was nothing to do but discharge the so-called dummies.

For Safe Transmission of Mails. St. Petersburg, April 25.—Ambassador Meyer has now completed his round of calls on members of the Imperial family. His reception everywhere was of the most flattering character. Mr. Meyer has just instituted a semi-monthly courier service to carry the embassy mail as far as Germany, a practice which has long been followed by the other embassies at St. Petersburg.

A MARRIED MAN'S SONG OF EASTER.

WHEN Betty went to church with me At Easteride, she used to wear Some fetching headress for the day, A rich and elegant affair. It was a thing of loveliness That brought admiring eyes upon it. I cannot say, try as I may, How dear to me was Betty's bonnet.

And now when Betty goes to church At Easteride she still is seen In some creation much the same As gave her charm at sweet sixteen. The charm has somewhat passed away. 'Tis true, I like to see her don it, But I can tell—a toe well— How dear to me is Betty's bonnet! —Roy Griffith in Boston Globe.

THE FIRST EASTER EGG.

It Was Laid, It Is Said, by a Roman Emperor's Hen.

Who used the first Easter egg, and was it a colored one? If we are to believe one of the most reliable antiquaries the practice of using colored eggs had its origin in the interesting fact that when the Roman emperor Alexander Severus was born a hen belonging to his parents made the day a memorable one by laying a red egg. That the custom of coloring them is older than the Christian era is proved by the fact that colored eggs have been found in the coffins of Tartars in Russia who were buried many years before Christ. The Persians, who have kept the festival of the solar year in March from time immemorial, make free use of eggs as gifts, colored most effectively with their splendid dyes.

The Romans made more use of eggs than any other nation, for they were not only articles of everyday diet, but were used upon many ceremonial occasions. For these people they seemed to possess some mysterious power of reparation and purification, as when they felt the need of a moral rejuvenation it was their habit to carry eggs to the temples and place them on the altars of the gods.

To the ancients the egg was something very mysterious on account of the manner in which life evolved from it, which idea may have led them to attribute to all life a similar origin. There can be little doubt that the use of eggs in the spring was originally symbolical of the reinvigoration of nature, the coming forth of new life.

We find traces of superstition connected with the egg, many of which are firmly believed in today, coexistent with the first record of the ceremonial use of the egg. When the church was obliged to make Easter coincide with the date of pagan festivals these superstitions were grafted on to the Christian belief, which accounts for their existence today.—Laura B. Starr in Woman's Home Companion.

SOMEbody has suggested that both Russia and Japan now wish they had prepared stronger navies while they were at peace and had a chance.

FROM the stock exchange comes the report that Thomas W. Lawson, the pronounced foe of and prolific writer about high finance, cleaned up a million dollars last week on wheat. He has to make a little on the side to keep up expenses while he goes after "high finance" crowd."

THE new law that prohibits the selling of opium, morphine or cocaine to a habitual user of such drugs unless upon the written prescription of a physician will be a relief to most druggists. This is a kind of business that is not considered desirable. The fine is not less than $10 and may be $50 for the violation of this statute.

IF ALL reports are true the would-be "game keepers" in Seymour are having a pretty rough time getting started again. An order went forth several weeks ago and several gamblers closed shop, boxed up their traps and quit the town. All efforts to carry on this line of business in Seymour since then have encountered difficulties and embarrassments. And if reports are true the end is not yet.

NUMEROUS are the assurances from the packers that they are not alarmed by the inquiry into beef trust methods, but the disappearance of witnesses that is reported and also the trips to Europe by those who are supposed to be directly interested are becoming rather frequent, and they are significant. Possibly that is what they mean by not being alarmed—they have transportation to other climes.

DIED.

REED—Mrs. Bruce Reed died Monday afternoon, April 24 at 3:30, at her home on North Walnut Street. The cause of her death was spinal meningitis of several weeks duration. Birdie M. Burdick was born in Clide, Kansas, on February 10, 1881. She was married to Mr. Bruce Reed in Seymour by Rev. J. M. Baxter, April 9, 1899. To them two sons and one daughter were born, two of whom survive their mother.

Mrs. Reed was a member of the Methodist church, having joined it when quite a young girl. She was also a member of the Knights and Ladies of Honor and a most valuable worker. She was a loving daughter, a true wife and a kind mother. Her many friends share in the sorrow of the bereaved family.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First M. E. church. Rev. J. A. Sargent will be in charge of the ceremonies. Burial at Riverview cemetery.

Runaway.

This forenoon the mule team belonging to the Seymour Manufacturing Company while drawing a load of spokes became unruly at the crossing of the railroad and Second street. A bunch of spokes fell off the load to the brick street which frightened them some. More spokes fell and one of the lines broke so the driver could not stop them. They ran three blocks west scattering spokes all along the way, but stopped of their own accord, doing no damage. John Huber's dray team was standing on Second Street and ran as far as Walnut where they were stopped.

Loss Not Yet Adjusted.

Frank H. Hadley returned from Bedford last evening and reported that his loss by the burning of his produce and poultry house there could not be definitely determined yet. What the salvage will be will not be known until the insurance adjuster is on the ground. There was more than $3,000 worth of stock on hand and on this there was $1,000 insurance. The business will go right on at Bedford. The owner of the building will rebuild at once.

Winners Again.

Mark Williams, in charge of the Prudential office here, and his agents are the winners in the district again this month and for that reason D. A. Sutherland, the district superintendent, and the assistant superintendent under him and several agents will meet here Saturday in honor of the champions. A banquet will be served.

BORN.

To Walker Frank and wife, former residents of Hamilton township, but now living at St. James, Mo., a son, April 25.

Goo Advice
To Sick Women

Mrs. George A. Hess Has Had Sufficient Experience To Give Advice.

"Just let me tell you what Rexall Mucu-Tone did for me," writes Mrs. Hess 96 Brown Place, Jersey City, N. J., to the W. F. Peter Drug Co.

"For five years I had been growing more and more feeble. I was weak, run down and nervous; suffered with pain in my back and side constantly, and was unable to obtain any relief whatever. It seemed as if my cup of trouble was already full when I was overtaken by catarrhal bronchitis and for five weeks was confined to my bed.

"Nothing seemed to help me, and I was in deepest despair when a neighbor advised me to try Mucu-Tone. From the first dose I experienced relief. I succeeded in breaking up the attack completely within twenty-four hours, and at the end of a week I felt like a new woman. Today I am in perfect health; something I have not known for years. I therefore feel safe in advising all women who are nervous and broken down to buy a bottle of Rexall Mucu-Tone and take it as directed."

"Mrs. Hess' letter literally describes the ailments that many people in our own community are suffering from," said Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co.

"If you have these symptoms it means that some part of your system has been attacked by catarrh. One after another the organs become deranged, the liver and kidneys are no longer able to purify the blood, and the heart becomes affected; sleeplessness, melancholia and despair follow. You grow weak and haggard, have pains in the back, under the shoulder blades, and bearing down pains in the lower abdomen. You have probably thought that you are merely run down and need a tonic.

"Yes, you are run down, you do need a tonic, but you need more than a tonic, you need a remedy that will clean the mucous membranes. Rexall Mucu-Tone does that. No matter how slight your weakness or depression you need Mucu-Tone. No matter how bad your catarrh, Mucu-Tone will quickly cure it.

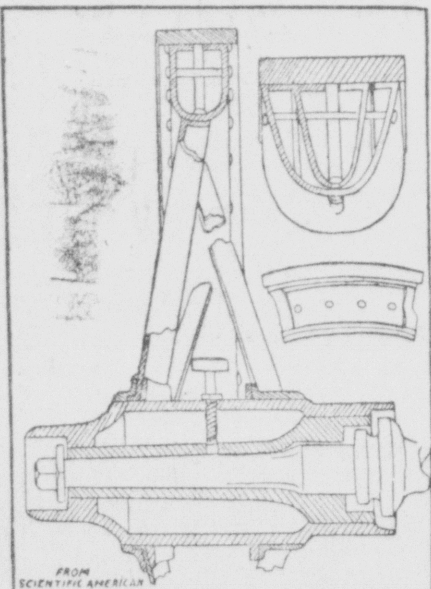

"Our confidence in Rexall Mucu-Tone is based on the knowledge of what this remedy has done in thousands of cases. We know it will benefit you. If it doesn't you come to our store and we will refund you the purchase price. We are putting out trial bottles on this guarantee at 50 cents." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

METAL WAGON WHEEL.

Strong, Shapely and Light, Adaptable to Any Vehicle.

The accompanying engraving pictures a vehicle wheel which is made of sheet metal almost entirely. The construction, however, is such as to produce a very strong, shapely wheel, which may be used either on a light or a heavy vehicle. The wheel is also so arranged that when in motion it will automatically lubricate the axle spindle. The hub of the wheel, which has the usual external form, is made hollow to receive the box bearing, which in turn receives and rotatably supports the axle spindle. The space formed between the shell of the hub and the box bearing provides a suitable oil chamber for lubrication of the spindle. The oil passes through a perforation in the wall of the box, which may be opened or closed to any extent by means of a set screw threaded through the shell of the hub. On the exterior of the hub two parallel radial flanges are formed, to which the spokes are secured. The spokes are made of sheet metal bent to the form of channels of U shaped cross section.

The flanges on the hub are formed to fit the spokes and consequently consist of a series of semicircular or U shaped abutments. A pair of clamping rings serve to hold the spokes against these abutments. These rings are formed with radial flanges shaped to correspond with the abutment flanges, to which they are riveted at intervals. At their upper ends the spokes are riveted to a U shaped wheel rim formed of sheet metal. The rim is braced at intervals by shouldered rivets. The method of joining the ends of the wheel rim consists in riveting the ends to a coupling sleeve inserted in the rim.

In assembling the wheel the coupling sleeve is riveted to one end, and is free to slide in the other. After the tire is shrunk on and the rim thereby compressed to the proper degree the other end is riveted to the coupling sleeve. Mr. John Leifer of San Bernardino, Cal., is the inventor of this sheet metal vehicle wheel.—Scientific American.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube be restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Consider
The Lilies, How They Grow

UNTIL the early eighties the favorite Easter lily with Americans, who spend over $1,000,000 a year upon this feature of Easter decoration, was the Madonna or Annunciation lily (Lilium candidum), the common white species of the old world, a native of southern Europe. But in 1882 it was quite eclipsed by the Bermudan lily, which was introduced by William K. Harris, a Philadelphia florist, under the name of Lilium harrisii. The new variety had larger flowers than the Madonna lily and more of them. It was earlier, requiring only thirteen weeks for development under favorable conditions, and, best of all, it took kindly to the hothouse forcing process.

Then came the bonanza period for the Bermudan grower, but in his zeal he came near to killing the goose which laid his golden egg. Competition carried the forcing process to such a point that the bulbs were dug before they were ripe in order to get them into the American market by Christmas or earlier, and disease resulted. In the most prosperous days of the Bermudan lily one grower often harvested 20,000 bulbs from a single acre, with gross profits of $2,000 to $2,500. The United States department of agriculture exhaustively investigated the lily disease, but the Bermudians were not bound to follow its advice, and little good was accomplished.

Here was Japan's opportunity, for the Bermudan lily was originally a native of Japan and China. In 1879 Japan sent the United States only $2,000 worth of bulbs. In 1895 the exports amounted to $40,000. By 1899 they had reached $130,000, and they have been increasing ever since, while the Bermudan product is supposed to be a quarter less than it was a decade ago. But the Japanese made the same error as the Bermudians, and the lily disease is now ravaging the white fields of the mikado's empire.

The agricultural department again took up the lily question, and in 1900 an attempt was made to transplant the whole lily industry to the United

THE GIANT LILY OF INDIA.

States. The best stock obtainable was imported and planted in chosen sections of the southeastern states. Every scientific method of propagation and growth was tried, but the experiment proved a failure. The climate was unsuitable. Now the department has conceived the bold idea of growing the bulbs from seed, and experiments along this line have been unexpectedly successful.

The main advantages of the new method of propagation will be the elimination of disease and the fixation of three or four well marked varieties. We need early, midseason and late varieties, the first of which will naturally cost more and the last least. One of the most beautiful of all white lilies is the Lilium giganteum, or giant lily of India, but only those who are especially favored may enjoy this Easter emblem. It is seldom grown in America except by scientific horticulturists. It often attains a height of ten to eleven feet, and its large, odorless flowers remain in good condition for nearly three weeks.

The Lilium longiflorum is a tall, late northern variety that sometimes requires thirty weeks for the development of the flower. Its southern form is called by the botanist and the Japanese grower Lilium longiflorum var. eximium and by the Bermudan Lilium harrisii. The intermediate form, Lilium longiflorum var. giganteum, though requiring about eighteen weeks to force, is a most promising variety for the plant breeder. It is taller than eximium, with larger flowers. The bulb stores better than those of the other types and commands the highest price of all because it is said to be a difficult subject to propagate by vegetative methods.—Country Life in America.

Marriage Law Interpreted.

Judge Marshal Hacker, of Columbus, has made a ruling outside of court on the marriage law which will attract some attention. It has been the custom to give the man who calls for the license two blanks, one for himself and one for his wife-to-be. Under Judge Hacker's ruling these blanks must be filled out and sworn to by both the man and woman who intend marrying. The woman must either go to the clerk's office or appear before a notary public, justice of the peace or some one qualified to administer an oath and swear that the questions asked her have been truthfully answered before the clerk will grant her a license.

Many Homicides.

Statistics as have been compiled by Joseph H. Stubbs, State Statistician, show that there were 132 homicides in Indiana in 1904. Marion County led with 19. Vigo County came second with 13. The counties of Parke, White, Jasper and Allen had 5 each and Lawrence County 4.

Suicides numbered 305. Marion County leads with 46, Vigo, 23, Vanderburgh, 17, Delaware, 12, Allen, 11, and Wayne, 10. There were 920 accidental deaths. One hundred and sixty of them were in Marion County, Vigo County had 45, Lake 44, Allen, 34, Vanderburgh, 33, St. Joseph, 28, Vermillion 22 and Delaware 19.

MAY 3

Date When Hospital Commission will Hear Claims of Cities.

A letter from Hon Geo. A. H. Shideler, secretary of the Southeastern Indiana Hospital Commission, states that the commission will meet at Indianapolis on May 3, and on that date will be "pleased to meet any authorized committee of citizens representing any city desiring the permanent location of the institution." The secretary further writes that the commission authorized him to "call specific attention to the following points to be considered by the commission in arriving at a definite decision."

1. They will want as near as practicable 360 acres of ground.
2. Ample water supply.
3. Good facilities for drainage and sewage.
4. Healthful location.
5. Ample and convenient railroad facilities.
6. Option on location for not more than actual worth.

Other points will be considered as well, but those above set forth must be prominently brought before the Commission in any presentation of every city aspiring for the location of this hospital.

Sometime after May 3 the Commission will visit and inspect each location presented before arriving at a conclusion.

TUESDAY APRIL 25, 1905.

SOMEbody has suggested that both Russia and Japan now wish they had prepared stronger navies while they were at peace and had a chance.

FROM the stock exchange comes the report that Thomas W. Lawson, the pronounced foe of and prolific writer about high finance, cleaned up a million dollars last week on wheat. He has to make a little on the side to keep up expenses while he goes after "high finance" crowd."

THE new law that prohibits the selling of opium, morphine or cocaine to a habitual user of such drugs unless upon the written prescription of a physician will be a relief to most druggists. This is a kind of business that is not considered desirable. The fine is not less than $10 and may be $50 for the violation of this statute.

IF ALL reports are true the would-be "game keepers" in Seymour are having a pretty rough time getting started again. An order went forth several weeks ago and several gamblers closed shop, boxed up their traps and quit the town. All efforts to carry on this line of business in Seymour since then have encountered difficulties and embarrassments. And if reports are true the end is not yet.

NUMEROUS are the assurances from the packers that they are not alarmed by the inquiry into beef trust methods, but the disappearance of witnesses that is reported and also the trips to Europe by those who are supposed to be directly interested are becoming rather frequent, and they are significant. Possibly that is what they mean by not being alarmed—they have transportation to other climes.

DIED.

REED—Mrs. Bruce Reed died Monday afternoon, April 24 at 3:30, at her home on North Walnut Street. The cause of her death was spinal meningitis of several weeks duration. Birdie M. Burkoll was born in Clide, Kansas, on February 10, 1881. She was married to Mr. Bruce Reed in Seymour by Rev. J. M. Baxter, April 9, 1899. To them two sons and one daughter were born, two of whom survive their mother.

Mrs. Reed was a member of the Methodist church, having joined it when quite a young girl. She was also a member of the Knights and Ladies of Honor and a most valuable worker. She was a loving daughter, a true wife and a kind mother. Her many friends share in the sorrow of the bereaved family.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First M. E. church. Rev. J. A. Sargent will be in charge of the ceremonies. Burial at Riverview cemetery.

Runaway.

This forenoon the mule team belonging to the Seymour Manufacturing Company while drawing a load of spoked wheels was crossing the crossing of the railroad and Second street. A bunch of spoked wheels off the load to the brick street which frightened them some. More spoked wheels and one of the lines broke so the driver could not stop them. They ran three blocks west scattering spoked wheels all along the way, but stopped of their own accord, doing no damage. John H. Snyder's team was standing on Second Street and ran as far as Walnut where they were stopped.

Loss Not Yet Adjusted.

Frank H. Hadley returned from Bedford last evening and reported that his loss by the burning of his produce and poultry house there could not be definitely determined yet. What the salvage will be will not be known until the insurance adjuster is on the ground. There was more than $3,000 worth of stock on hand and on this there was $1,000 insurance. The business will go right on at Bedford. The owner of the building will rebuild at once.

Winners Again.

Mark Williams, in charge of the Prudential office here, and his agents are the winners in the district again this month and for that reason D. A. Sutherland, the district superintendent, and the assistant superintendent under him and several agents will meet here Saturday in honor of the champions. A banquet will be served.

BORN.

To Walker Frank and wife, former residents of Hamilton township, but now living at St. James, Mo., a son, April 25.

Goo Advice To Sick Women

Mrs. George A. Hess Has Had Scientific Experience To Give Advice.

"Just let me tell you what Rexall Muc-Tone did for me," writes Mrs. Hess 96 Brown Place, Jersey City, N. J., to the W. F. Peter Drug Co.

"For five years I had been growing more and more feeble. I was weak, run down and nervous; suffered with pain in my back and side constantly, and was unable to obtain any relief whatever. It seemed as if my cup of trouble was already full when I was overtaken by catarrhal bronchitis and for five weeks was confined to my bed. "Nothing seemed to help me, and I was in deepest despair when a neighbor advised me to try Muc-Tone. From the first dose I experienced relief. I succeeded in breaking up the attack completely within twenty-four hours, and at the end of a week I felt like a new woman. Today I am in perfect health; something I have not known for years. I therefore feel safe in advising all women who are nervous and broken down to buy a bottle of Rexall Muc-Tone and take it as directed."

"Mrs. Hess' letter literally describes the ailments that many people in our own community are suffering from," said Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co. "If you have these symptoms it means that some part of your system has been attacked by catarrh. One after another the organs become deranged, the liver and kidneys are no longer able to purify the blood, and the heart becomes affected; sleeplessness, melancholia and despair follow. You grow weak and haggard, have pains in the back, under the shoulder blades, and bearing down pains in the lower abdomen. You have probably thought that you are merely run down and need a tonic."

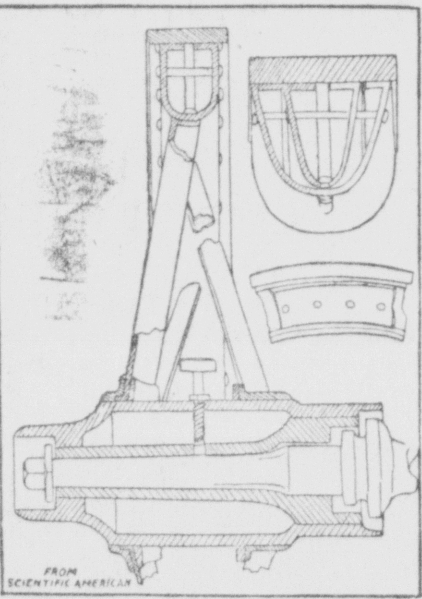

"Yes, you are run down, you do need a tonic, but you need more than a tonic, you need a remedy that will clean the mucous membranes. Rexall Muc-Tone does that. No matter how slight your weakness or depression you need Muc-Tone. No matter how bad your catarrh, Muc-Tone will quickly cure it."

"Our confidence in Rexall Muc-Tone is based on the knowledge of what this remedy has done in thousands of cases. We know it will benefit you. If it doesn't you come to our store and we will refund you the purchase price. We are putting out trial bottles on this guarantee at 50 cents." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

METAL WAGON WHEEL.

Strong, Shapely and Light, Adaptable to Any Vehicle.

The accompanying engraving pictures a vehicle wheel which is made of sheet metal almost entirely. The construction, however, is such as to produce a very strong, shapely wheel, which may be used either on a light or a heavy vehicle. The wheel is also so arranged that when in motion it will automatically lubricate the axle spindle. The hub of the wheel, which has the usual external form, is made hollow to receive the box bearing, which in turn receives and rotatably supports the axle spindle. The space formed between the shell of the hub and the box bearing provides a suitable oil chamber for lubrication of the spindle. The oil passes through a perforation in the wall of the box, which may be opened or closed to any extent by means of a set screw threaded through the shell of the hub. On the exterior of the hub two parallel radial flanges are formed, to which the spokes are secured. The spokes are made of sheet metal bent to the form of channels of U shaped cross section. The flanges on the hub are formed to fit the spokes and consequently consist of a series of semicircular or U shaped abutments. A pair of clamping rings serve to hold the spokes against these abutments. These rings are formed with radial flanges shaped to correspond with the abutment flanges, to which they are riveted at intervals. At their upper ends the spokes are riveted to a U shaped wheel rim formed of sheet metal. The rim is braced at intervals by shouldered rivets. The method of joining the ends of the wheel rim consists in riveting the ends to a coupling sleeve inserted in the rim.

In assembling the wheel the coupling sleeve is riveted to one end, but is free to slide in the other. After the tire is shrunk on and the rim thereby compressed to the proper degree the other end is riveted to the coupling sleeve. Mr. John Lefler of San Bernardino, Cal., is the inventor of this sheet metal vehicle wheel.—Scientific American.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube be restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Consider The Lilies, How They Grow

UNTIL the early eighties the favorite Easter lily with Americans, who spend over $1,000,000 a year upon this feature of Easter decoration, was the Madonna or Annunciation lily (Lilium candidum), the common white species of the old world, a native of southern Europe. But in 1882 it was quite eclipsed by the Bermuda lily, which was introduced by William K. Harris, a Philadelphia florist, under the name of Lilium harrisii. The new variety had larger flowers than the Madonna lily and more of them. It was earlier, requiring only thirteen weeks for development under favorable conditions, and, best of all, it took kindly to the hothouse forcing process.

Then came the bonanza period for the Bermuda grower, but in his zeal he came near to killing the goose which laid his golden egg. Competition carried the forcing process to such a point that the bulbs were dug before they were ripe in order to get them into the American market by Christmas or earlier, and disease resulted. In the most prosperous days of the Bermuda lily one grower often harvested 20,000 bulbs from a single acre, with gross profits of $2,000 to $2,500. The United States department of agriculture exhaustively investigated the lily disease, but the Bermudians were not bound to follow its advice, and little good was accomplished.

Here was Japan's opportunity, for the Bermuda lily was originally a native of Japan and China. In 1879 Japan sent the United States only $2,000 worth of bulbs. In 1895 the exports amounted to $40,000. By 1899 they had reached $130,000, and they have been increasing ever since, while the Bermuda product is supposed to be a quarter less than it was a decade ago. But the Japanese made the same error as the Bermudians, and the lily disease is now ravaging the white fields of the mikado's empire.

The agricultural department again took up the lily question, and in 1900 an attempt was made to transplant the whole lily industry to the United

THE GIANT LILY OF INDIA.

States. The best stock obtainable was imported and planted in chosen sections of the southeastern states. Every scientific method of propagation and growth was tried, but the experiment proved a failure. The climate was unsuitable. Now the department has conceived the bold idea of growing the bulbs from seed, and experiments along this line have been unexpectedly successful.

The main advantages of the new method of propagation will be the elimination of disease and the fixation of three or four well marked varieties. We need early, midseason and late varieties, the first of which will naturally cost more and the last least.

One of the most beautiful of all white lilies is the Lilium giganteum, or giant lily of India, but only those who are especially favored may enjoy this Easter emblem. It is seldom grown in America except by scientific horticulturists. It often attains a height of ten to eleven feet, and its large, odoriferous flowers remain in good condition for nearly three weeks.

The Lilium longiflorum is a tall, late northern variety that sometimes requires thirty weeks for the development of the flower. Its southern form is called by the botanist and the Japanese grower Lilium longiflorum var. eximium and by the Bermudian Lilium harrisii. The intermediate form, Lilium longiflorum var. giganteum, though requiring about eighteen weeks to force, is a most promising variety for the plant breeder. It is taller than eximium, with larger flowers. The bulb stores better than those of the other types and commands the highest price of all because it is said to be a difficult subject to propagate by vegetative methods.—Country Life in America.

MAY 3

Date When Hospital Commission will Hear Claims of Cities.

A letter from Hon Geo. A. H. Shideler, secretary of the Southeastern Indiana Hospital Commission, states that the commission will meet at Indianapolis on May 3, and on that date will be "pleased to meet any authorized committee of citizens representing any city desiring the permanent location of the institution." The secretary further writes that the commission authorized him to "call specific attention to the following points to be considered by the commission in arriving at a definite decision."

1. They will want as near as practicable 360 acres of ground.
2. Ample water supply.
3. Good facilities for drainage and sewage.
4. Healthful location.
5. Ample and convenient railroad facilities.
6. Option on location for not more than actual worth.

Other points will be considered as well, but those above set forth must be prominently brought before the Commission in any presentation of every city aspiring for the location of this hospital.

Sometime after May 3 the Commission will visit and inspect each location presented before arriving at a conclusion.

Stacks of Wall Paper

In all conceivable designs are here
If you know how cheap artistic wall paper is at our store, you wouldn't let those rooms go another season with their old wall covering.

Freshen them up, it'll cost you but little, and means lots of comfort.

OUR $10.00 ARE GOOD SUITS.

YOU say how good? Well they are the best $10.00

Suits we ever sold, and that means they are the best

Suits for the money in town.

The mere mention of the fact that we have splendid suits at $10.00 does not properly convey the value of the garments. You must see them on, then only will you appreciate what the low price means.
